MOGADISHU UNIVERSITY

Post Graduate Programs

Introduction

Since its inception, Mogadishu University has been striving for best quality tertiary education and spreading it throughout the country because education plays a vital role in the development of any nation.

The aim of the postgraduate programs is to produce citizens equipped with knowledge, skills, and moral values. This will lead them to participate in their communities in a constructive and respectful manner to contribute for the development of the country.

After two years of its establishment, MU has seen the important need of opening postgraduate studies program to realize the dreams of many Somali graduates, particularly those who cannot withstand high fees at universities in abroad, and those who work in Somalia and have had long ambitions to pursue their postgraduate studies inside the country.

Diploma, Masters, PhD, in Education & Shari'a & Law

In 2003, however, after long discussions about the resources and opportunities available, MU introduced postgraduate programmes in collaboration with international universities. Umo Durman Islamic University became the first to sign on this program. Both universities have launched diploma, masters, and PhD degrees in education and Shari'a and Law.

Objectives:

- Meeting the increasing need for preparing and training cadres in different fields of knowledge and scientific research.
- Generate availability of cadres in Education, Shari'a and Law.

- Encourage and promote postgraduate studies, scientific research and improve both teaching quality and curriculum to cope with modern teaching methodology.
- Prepare graduates for obtaining higher degrees (Diplomas, masters and PhDs) in the fields of Education and Shari'a and Law.

Master of Business Administration (MBA)

As the number of graduates has been increasing yearly, particularly in the field of management and business administration, the need for postgraduate programs became a pressing demand.

Furthermore, the increasing need of both public and private sectors for well-qualified people in business and administration has become a critical demand. To cope with this pressing need, MU introduced Masters Degree in Business Administration program in collaboration with the Open University of Malaysia, OUM.

OUM - MBA program has international academic cooperation links with reputed universities in Europe and America.

Objectives of (MBA):

- Enhance managerial competence
- Sharpen analytical and conceptual skills
- Improve employability and managerial career development

The program is challenging enough to provide a cutting edge knowledge and competence to cope with the increasing demands of current managerial positions.

Thus the program is designed to strengthen managerial skills and capability in managing organizations and resources, efficiently and effectively.

The Importance of the Program in Somalia

The program is a great chance for those who are not able to travel in abroad for postgraduate studies.

It also gives an opportunity to the graduates working in their country. They can work and at the same time study in their home country.

As the number of experts in business and administration increases, the development of the country becomes stronger and competitive.

As a result, MU is convinced that this new program study will present significant role in meeting the demand-driven managerial management and business specializations in postgraduate studies.

The degree courses focus on preparing students for their challenging roles in the global markets - specifically people for management and business in public and private sectors.
